

WELCOME TO Houstonia.

DESIGNER SPOTLIGHT

Game of Thrones Star Totes Houston-Made Clutch to Golden Globes

The connection between H-Town and the House of Targaryen?

A pink python clutch.

Published Jan 14, 2014, 9:36am

By Peter Holley

Some of us watch the Golden Globes for the movies and others for the fashion. If you were admiring the threads at Sunday's 71st Annual Golden Globes, you may have noticed Game of Thrones star Emilia Clarke in a silvery dress by Proenza Schouler, looking nothing like a Targaryen. What you may have missed was her pale pink python clutch, which happens to be by local designer, Minnie Baird of Baird & Baird.

Baird has been designing handbags since 1999 and has a habit of bejeweling the skin of exotic species such as Colombian crocodile, python, stingray, ostrich, and American alligator. Clarke isn't the first celebrity to accentuate an ensemble with one of Baird's designs. Goldie Hawn and Angie Harmon have been spotted with "Annie," one of the company's most popular purses. As for the pink clutch, here's the rundown:

Designer: Baird & Baird
Description: pale pink python clutch with mother of pearl clasp
Retail price: $595
Available at: The Ethereal Room (below), which Baird opened in November with local jewelry designer Patricia Peckinpaugh.

The Ethereal Room

2608 Persa
713-524-3433

